

SALVATION ARMY IN NEED MORE WORKERS

Commander Evangeline Booth Calls for 1,000 Additional Forces.

A HOME SERVICE PROGRAM

Plan to Double Activities Within the Next Few Years in the Southwest.

Evangeline Booth, commander in chief of the Salvation army in America, is calling for 1,000 young men and women to carry on the work of the Salvation army in its enlarged home service program. These young men and women must be willing to become volunteers—consecrated to the service of humanity.

Everywhere the doors of opportunity are opening before the Miss Booth's stated recruits. We could place them in positions of unusual opportunity to help save men, a thousand consecrated young men and women.

Chance for Training

Louis C. George Wood, in charge of Salvation army activities for the southwestern division, announces that such young people who desire additional training and service should seek their opportunities for entrance to the Salvation Army training colleges to the southwestern division headquarters at 1344 Commerce street, Dallas, Texas.

There are two such colleges in the United States, one for the east located in New York, and one for the west or midwest. Those who do not find here sufficient training will be sent to six months of intensive training. They are then sent out as probationary lieutenants for a year's practical experience in their chosen line of work. At the end of this period, if their work is satisfactory, they are commissioned as regular lieutenants in the Salvation army.

"The staff of officers in the southwestern division must be largely increased," Col. Wood states. "We are planning to double the activities of the division within the next few years. The new institutions planned for this territory—additional hotels for working men, industrial homes, rescue homes, day nurseries, maternity hospitals and farm colonies—will require many trained Salvation army methods who have the first-hand knowledge of the problems with which they will be required to deal."

"Under the new system of collecting funds for home service work in one yearly drive, it is expected that many additional volunteers will result. Not that the workers will be more numerous than ever, but they will be better equipped to do their work. We have been in the past, but they will be able to devote their entire efforts to humanitarian service, instead of being placed under the necessity of begging for small sums with which to carry on the work, as was necessary when passing tambourines was the only method of collecting money."

SALVATION ARMY CONGRESS DALLAS ALL NEXT WEEK

The Salvation Army will hold its annual southwestern congress in Dallas from May 10 to 14, according to an announcement just made by Lieut. Col. George Wood, who is in charge of Salvation Army activities for the southwestern division.

The congress will be led by Commissioner Thomas Kastell of Chicago, who is the head of the western territory. He will be assisted by Lieut. Col. J. T. Flynn, J. C. Addie and George Wood and seventy-five field officers.

The sessions of the congress to which the public is invited will be held at the Salvation Army Hall at 1344 Commerce street. The first of these meetings will be held Saturday, May 10, at 8 o'clock and the others Sunday at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., and Monday at 8 p.m. The meeting on Monday night will be an anniversary gathering at which the annual anniversary will be given. Mayor Frank Wozenecraft will preside at this session.

Sister for Mrs. Hawkins

Lidia Ann Hawkins, 111 South Madison street, 68 years old, died at her home Monday night after several months' illness. Funeral services were held at the home at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Rosehill cemetery.
